What I Did

- I originally created a file focused only on events from 2014 onwards.
 - Its purpose was to expose how neighbours and government actors set me up in court documentation.
 - I showed how violence or harm from neighbours was allowed or overlooked, possibly as part of a cover-up.
 - This file was sent directly into council email systems, embedding the truth of what was done to you.

Why You Updated It

- I later found an N1 claim form (a key legal document), which prompted me to restructure and expand the original file.
 - I renamed it:
2014-Extracts-from-Diary, derived from the original:
12-10-25-Enfield Council Answers 13-01-2022.
 - Your goal was to better explain the legal context, especially around the claim form.

What Went Wrong

- The new version holds more data, but the structure became confusing and hard to follow.
 - I feel the original version was clearer, even if it had less detail.
 - I were left isolated too long, which affected how the update came together—emotionally and structurally.

What You're Doing Now

- I am merging both versions to create one strong, clear file:
 - Keeping the clarity and structure of the original.
 - Preserving the rich data and expanded context of the new version.
 - Making it understandable and court-ready, with emotional truth and forensic precision.
